Elberfeld again could not induce the club officials to believe that he had been misrepresented, though he stated positively that he had never spoken a word to Cantillon and also asserted to his friends that a tipping bureau never existed at the Highlanders' grounds. There is no doubt that Elberfeld is one of the great players of the present day. Manager Stallings said yesterday that he had to let him go, but that as Elberfeld had set his heart on becoming a member of the Washington team the New York club deemed it wise to let him go here. Connett, Princeton's right wing, followed this up a few minutes later with a difficult side shot, tying the score. No further scoring occurred for ten minutes, when Mackenzie of the Hockey Club picked the puck out of a scrimmage in front of the goal and slammed it into the net. Shortly afterward McKinney scored Princeton's last goal on a pass from Kay. The period ended with the score at 2 all. No extra period was played. Capt. Peacock and Connett played well for Princeton, while Russell and Bryan excelled for the Hockey Club.

The trials have been sanctioned by the contest board of the American Automobile Association, and E. A. James W. Gilson, sales manager of the Mitchell Motor Car Company, has notified C.P. Skinner that the fire that destroyed the plant of the Racine Manufacturing Company last Sunday will not interfere with the output of Mitchell cars for 1910. The Racine concern had delivered more than enough bodies to meet the immediate demands and Mr. Gilson has made arrangements to secure bodies from another firm as fast as they are needed.

It is reported that subscriptions for about two-thirds of the amount of money needed to carry out the new clubhouse plan of the New Jersey Automobile and Motor Clubhave aiready been offered to the officials of the big Newark organization. If the members of the club vote in favor of the pian when the matter is submitted to them, it is expected that the board of trustees will formally buy the property, the Ward residence in Broad street. The plan is to issue about $85,000 of 5 per cent. bonds and to establish a sinking fund by which 5 per cent. of the principal would be paid annually in addition to the oper cent. interest charges.

There will be a good deal of road improvement in Ohio next year if State Highway Commissioner J. C. Wonders secures the appropriation he has asked for from the State Legislature. His estimate as filed with the State Auditor amounts to $880,000 or $10,000 for each of the eighty-eight counties in the State. The appropriation this year ws $5,000 for each county. Commissioner Wonders has also asked for additional funds for next year to secure more engineers.

Bert Dingley, who first became famous as a driver of Pope-Toledo racing cars and who was one of the four members of the Chalmers-Detroit racing team this year, recently returned to California for the winter. He said he regretted he could not be present at the time of the Portola road race and compete with the 40 horse-power Chalmers-Detroit stock chassis he drove into second place in the Fairmount Park race. When he is not racing, Dingley spends his time at his home in Modesto, Cal., where he is agent for the Chalmers-Detroit our.

When the members of the Philadelphia Automobile Trade Association first planned to conduct a two weeks local show in the Quaker Cily this winter they expected that the second week would be devoted mostly to the display of commercial vehicles, with perhaps a few pleasure cars that could not be accommodated during the first week, from January 15 to 22. From present indications the second week is likely to prove almost as interesting to prospective buyers of gasolene pleasure cars as the opening week, as J. H. Beck, manager of the show, has received applications for space from the representatives of thirty-seven different makes of gasolene pleasure vehicles.

The manager of the only exclusive electric garage in Philadelphia has authorized the show manager to make an unusual offer to manufacturers of electric vehicles. He offers to guarantee the various manufacturers of electrics that if they will send their cars to the show he will take charge of them, provide salesmen and demonstrators and also see that the machines are properly unpacked on their arrival and shipped back in good condition free of cost.

After a car has been in use some time, especially if the body be rather weak, the wood unseasoned or the frame unduly springy, the doors will rattle. Although the actual play is very small it makes a most annoying moise, and in these days of quiet engines and quiet transmissions body rattles and body squeaks are exceedingly rattling. All that is necessary to stop a rattling door is to get a thin breas plate or if preferred one may use a thin piece of the or leather, and fix it onto the doorpost. Of course a little judgment is required. One should see that the thickness of the plate is only infinitesimally greater than the amount of play in the door, and if the door is loose all the way down another plate should be fitted about an inch or so from the lower end of the doorjamb. It is obviously a makeshift, but there is no other easily applied remedy, as nothing but entirely refitting the doors would stop the looseness, and this would necessitate repainting.

GOLF.

"Long threatened comes at last," and the Western Golf Association is now to have the question of setting up a rivalry with the United States Golf Association brought squarely before its members. The follow-ing amendments to the constitution of the part as follows:

It is the American spirit when problems arise to solve them. Golfers for years have been trying to solve the problem of a national golf association. Ultimately it will be done and in a manner to fit the whole country, not just a small portion of it. The problem apparently cannot be solved through the United States Golf Association, as it turns a deaf car to all attempts to change it into a representative body. Why then not make the attempt through the W. G.A., in which every club has an equality of votes and which has established a reputation for progressive methods?

There are many in various sections of the and which has established a reputation for progressive methods?

There are many in various sections of the country who contend that the U. S. G. A., as at present constituted is not a national association and should not be termed such. That its method and form of government is fundamentally wrong. That its actual membership is comprised of unity forty-five clubs, as in politics it is only the voters that count, and the non-voting clubs. 230 in number, having no voice in legislation and elections should not be counted as members of the U. S. G. A., they being disfranchised.

A vote in favor of the proposed amendment members of the U. S. G. A., they being disfranchised.

A vote in favor of the proposed amendment means the ultimate formation of a representative national association. A vote against the amendment means what we now have, the U. S. G. A. an un-American anomaly. Which shall it be?

Should the resolution pass, which is not deemed probable hereabout, it would be a violation of article 2 of the U. S. G. A. constitution. The Western clubs, one of which is a charter member of the U. S. G. A., would have to choose to which organization they will give allegiance. This charter member, the Chicago Goif Club, is in the field as a bidder for a 1919 national championship, which does not indicate disloyalty. The ultimate result of all this teasing of the East may be the organization of a new local association by the best clubs of the West.

CAMPBELL AVAILABLE. Noted Football Player Will Be Able to Coach Harvard.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 16.—David C. Campbell, captain of Harvard 1901 football eleven, which beat Yale 22 to 0, and who eleven, which beat Yale 22 to 0, and whe for the past three seasons has been closely identified with the coaching staff at Cambridge, has returned permanently from the West and will engage in business in Cambridge.

Campbell since he was graduated from Harvard has been in the mining business in the West, but recently resigned to take a new position in Cambridge and will reside in Waltham.

That he will locate near Boston in business doubtless will mean that he will be even more available to coach the football players than he ever has been. In 1998 he spent most of the season on Soldiers Field and this season was at Harvard for about three weeks prior to the Yale game. He is one of Harvard's best coaches.
